

The latest move by Sinclair broadcasting underscores the heavy price paid for allowing media conglomeration and deregulation. The media must be held accountable by the people, particularly when used to spread political propaganda in what is supposed to be a "free" society. Where is the accountability?